

ABSTRACT

Most people prefer to use glass windows at home or in offices, simply because they want to enjoy the sun light at the same time avoid the dust but also for decoration purpose. But since the use of glass window exclude the use of iron rods (Traditionally used for protection), burglars take that advantage and easily break the window glass to steal properties when owners are away.

Burglar alarm on window glass breaking is a project designated to alert the owners whenever an intruder break the glass to steal properties

The project employs a circuit which will give notification whenever a glass is broken.

The sensing element of the glass breakage will be a fine wire mesh attached on the surface of the glass which will break with the glass and trigger the alerting circuit to notify the owners of burglary activities going on

With this project users of glass windows can be at peace knowing they will be alerted whenever an intruder try to steal by breaking the glass.